

JAMES H. JONES JR. BIO

I practiced law as an attorney with Bell & Ingram, P.S. law firm in Everett, Washington from the time of my admission to the Washington State Bar in 1977 until 2011 when Bell & Ingram ceased business. I was one of the shareholders/owners of the firm for the majority of this time. I am continuing my private practice with my own firm James H. Jones, Jr., PLLC

My principal practice areas have been civil litigation and other forms of dispute resolution, real estate and property, real estate development matters and transactions, land use, federal and state environmental law, contract and commercial law matters and transactions, bank representation, Federal Indian law and tribal representation, and homeowner association and camping club representation and matters. I was co-counsel regarding administrative and judicial proceedings concerning a Superfund site.

I received my undergraduate B.A. degree from the University of California at Berkeley in 1970 and my J.D. law degree from the University of Washington in 1977.

My honors include membership in the Order of the Coif, an honorary scholastic society which encourages excellence in legal education and recognizes law students who attain a high grade of scholarship. I am also a member of Phi Beta Kappa in recognition of high scholarship attainments.

I am admitted to practice in the Washington State Bar, and before the United States District Court in the Western District of Washington, the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, and the United States Supreme Court.

My community involvement has included past service on the Boards of Directors of Counterpoint, Sno-Isle Blood Bank, the Snohomish County Land Trust and the East County Senior Center. I was the 2008 Volunteer of the Year for the Monroe/Sky Valley YMCA. I served as Community Campaign Chair of the Invest in Youth Campaign for the Monroe/Sky Valley YMCA in 2009, and as a Division Leader in the 2008 Invest in Youth Campaign. I have coached Miracle League baseball and youth tennis clinics for the Monroe/Sky Valley YMCA.

I have two adult daughters, seven grandchildren, one great-grandson and live with one of my adult daughters and two of her daughters on hobby farm that is also populated by two pygmy goats, a pony, and a cat.
